

United States Senate

WASHINGTON, DC 20510

March 20, 2015

The Honorable Susan Collins
Chair
Subcommittee on Transportation, Housing and Urban Development, and Related Agencies
Committee on Appropriations
United States Senate
Washington, DC 20510

The Honorable Jack Reed
Ranking Member
Subcommittee on Transportation, Housing and
Urban Development, and Related Agencies
Committee on Appropriations
United States Senate
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Chairwoman Collins and Ranking Member Reed:

As Congress considers the fiscal year 2016 Transportation, Housing and Urban Development, and Related Agencies appropriations, we strongly urge the Subcommittee to maintain the federal government's commitment to community development at the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and support $250 million in funding for the Choice Neighborhoods Initiative, which is the same amount requested by the President's Budget.

The Choice Neighborhoods Initiative funds the transformation, rehabilitation, and replacement of distressed public and HUD-assisted housing and supports communities working to revitalize neighborhoods of concentrated poverty. Building on the successes of the HOPE VI distressed neighborhood program, the Choice Neighborhoods Initiative incorporates an innovative, holistic approach that leverages private resources to address affordable housing needs and community challenges that often surround troubled housing developments. It places a strong emphasis on local community planning for access to high-quality educational opportunities, including early childhood education.

Research suggests that, for children, growing up in high-poverty neighborhoods is a stronger predictor of downward economic mobility than parental occupation, education, labor force participation, and other family characteristics combined. As a comprehensive approach to serving both people and neighborhoods, the Choice Neighborhoods Initiative holds great promise as a way to improve economic opportunity, reduce concentrated poverty, and revitalize distressed communities. The Initiative's targeting of local community planning and implementation generates a ripple effect, attracting new private investment to the revived communities. For fiscal years 2010-2013, the program leveraged outside investment at a more than 7 to 1 ratio, bringing in an additional $2.65 billion. The requested funding for FY 2016 would allow HUD to fund 5-10 Planning Grants, to be allocated through a competitive process, and 5-8 Implementation Grants.

Due to the program's successes in transforming distraught areas in communities across the nation, the demand for Choice Neighborhoods funding is significant. According to the Urban Institute, for every 100 extremely low income renters, only 29 units of affordable housing are available, a dramatic shortfall at a time when the demand for rental housing is at record highs. Furthermore, continued cuts to public housing and project-based rental assistance units have contributed to what is now a backlog of $26 billion in needed capital improvements for some of the country's oldest housing units. Despite numerous examples of successful Choice Neighborhoods partnerships that have helped to transform communities, investment in rebuilding our nation's most physically and economically deteriorated neighborhoods is barely enough to cover even a fraction of the need. This demand demonstrates the wisdom of Choice Neighborhoods' approach in giving localities a tool to deal with distressed housing developments.

We recognize that this year's budget decisions are difficult. However, the continuation of this modest but far-reaching program will have both short- and long-term benefits in revitalizing and transforming distressed housing and communities. Thank you for your consideration of this request and your support for community development and neighborhood revitalization.

Sincerely,

Robert Menendez

Sherrod Brown

Richard J. Durbin

Gary Peters

Sheldon Whitehouse

Elizabeth Warren

Bernard Sanders

Richard Blumenthal

---

Cory Booker

---

Mazie K. Hirono

---

Charles E. Schumer

---

Ron Wyden

---

Chris Murphy